Dual Use Facility Planned

Andover is prepared to break with tradition and build a public safety building to house both its police and fire departments.

The Board of Selectmen "agreed in principle" with the recommendation of Manager Richard Bowen Monday who told the board that if it was their intention to locate facilities for both municipal departments on the Tyler warehouse property on N. Main Street, he thought they should be under the same roof.

Bowen and Police Chief David Nicolli have consistently indicated a preference for a police station site located more proximate to the general business district. But the Selectmen have leaned for several months toward the idea of locating the two on the warehouse site, just purchased from Contractor C. Lincoln Giles.

The manager broached the subject Monday in reporting that he is close to hiring an architect for the new central fire station.

He said he has discussed the feasibility of a combined facility

Bernardin, president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce; Selectman William Stewart; Philip Busby, tree warden; Selectmen Roger Collins and Sidney P. White; and the shovelers, Robert A. Watters, vice chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Marcelle W. Farrington, TOWNSMAN editor and Publisher Rogers. (Graber)

ABC Buys Main St. Residence

A three-story frame apartment building at the corner of Main and Morton Streets will be the residence, starting in September, of the 10 talented boys from disadvantaged environments who are to be enrolled at Andover High School next fall by the Andover Committee for A Better Chance. ABC purchased the building earlier this week.

Living in the house along with the 10 boys will be two college proctors and a teacher-supervisor and his family.

In commenting on the purchase, Robert Klie, ABC's chairman said, "We are delighted to have found this location for our program. The building is very roomy, will need little renovation, and has a wing in the rear to assure privacy for our teacher-supervisor and his family."

"There are many other benefits," he added. "First of all it is very close to Phillips Academy which is very important because of the extra tutoring we expect them (PA) to provide." Second, Klie said, "It is only a block and

Birder's Aid Is Published

An Andover bird fancier has published a booklet which will make things easier for birders who are pressed for time or impatient to round up in a hurry the best information available on the feathered friends they sight while on nature walks.

Malcolm J. Ruhl, a sometimes bird watcher, is the "author" and publisher of The Birder's Guide to Bird Guides, which is a quick cross-reference to the text and illustrations in 11 leading books on birds for 400 species found in North America East of the Rockies.

Ruhl reports in a foreword that the purpose of his handbook is "to provide quicker and easier access to the information in several field guides and general books which birders old and new - especially occasional birders whose interest is keen but whose time afield is limited - find most useful and enjoyable."

The publication will be sold in book shops throughout the area.

Chamber Music Introduced

by JoAnn Somers
AHS Junior

On May 3, the Lyric Arts String Quartet held a concert in the Andover High School Auditorium for all the sixth grades in the Andover public school system. The purpose of this recital in the last of a series of enrichment programs, was to expose the children to chamber music while they are young enough not to be frightened by it.

Mrs. G. C. Waterston, who is in charge of arrangements for public, private and parochial schools, introduced the group. She explained that they were from the Young Audiences Inc., a national organization with headquarters in Boston.

Mrs. Oliver Toubman played the cello, Alan Gerstel, the violin, Hanley Daws, the viola and Mrs. Dorothy Alpert, the violin. They chose various selections from string quarter movements written from 1900 to 1950 by such composers as Haydn, Bartok, Mozart and Beethoven. The group also defined the musical terms "waltz" and "minuet" and played different pieces to demonstrate these tempos.

The audience applauded most for a movement from Bartok's sixth string quartet called a "burlesque", or joke, since many unusual sounds were used.

Brenden Donahue from Shawsheen School volunteered to try an "instant cello" lesson, and then aided the musicians in playing "Pop Goes the Weasel", to prove that playing a musical instrument is not extremely difficult.

Following the concert was a question and answer period, where the students asked whatever they wanted about chamber music and string instruments.

Daws commented that the Andover youngsters were "one of the brightest audiences for which they had ever performed." Both the children and their teachers considered the program "excellent", and wished they could have had more time to ask questions.

Perhaps Brenden Donahue best summarized the youngsters' feelings about the concert when he remarked, "It was cool."

Students In Chess Match

The North Andover-Merrimack Chess Club won a six-board, interclub match against the recently organized Lawrence Chess Club last week with a record of 4-1/2 to 1-1/2. Games were played at the Lawrence YMCA.

Playing with the Lawrence Club were two Andover High School students, Martin Post and Sam Bell.

The results were as follows, with members of the North Andover-Merrimack Club listed first: William Harrison lost to Martin Post; James Brennan drew with George Pellich; Ned Arsenault won over Sam Bell; Edward Malory won over Phil Holden; Victor Ouellette won over Al Camplola; Albert Zemruski won over Bob Goosen.

The North Andover-Merrimack Club, which has already clinched the divisional championship in the North East Chess League, "B" Division meets every Friday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m. at Merrimack College. All interested chess players and observers are cordially invited to attend.

The annual club banquet will be held on Friday, May 19.

Baby Week In Progress

If every woman visited a doctor as soon as she believed she was pregnant there would be much less need for "Healthy Baby Week".

"But the fact is that too many women do not take pregnancy seriously enough to seek professional prenatal care," according to Dr. Martin Rothman of Haverhill, chairman of the medical advisory committee of the Merrimack Valley Chapter-March of Dimes.

Many clubs and organizations, such as the Jaycee-ettes and Junior Federation of Women's Clubs have joined with the National Foundation-March of Dimes and designated May 7 through May 14 "Healthy Baby Week" to focus public attention on the fight against birth defects and to encourage mothers-to-be to seek prenatal care.

"Healthier mothers usually have healthier babies", Dr. Rothman said, "but a shocking number of women do not seek any medical advice or care until the actual delivery of their baby."

More than 250,000 babies are born in the United States each year with birth defects, Dr. Rothman pointed out. "Each of us should do everything we can to reduce this tragic toll."

For a copy of the free booklet, "Be Good to Your Baby Before it is Born", write your local March of Dimes Chapter, 89 No. Main St., Andover, Mass. 01810 or telephone.

Also available are slides and films for showing to clubs on prenatal care.

"Naturalists" Will Explore

There's no time like summer-time for exploring the wide world out of doors, and this summer, Boston's Museum of Science offers a golden opportunity for junior naturalists to do just that. It's the special young people's Summer Explorers course, beginning July 11 at the Museum and appropriately based on the theme, "Exploring Natural History."

This program introduces youngsters aged 10 to 15 to plant and animal life in its various forms, including even the tiniest animals visible only through a microscope.

Two series will be offered to fit family vacation plans: the first meets July 11 through August 4; the second, August 8 through September 1. In two-hour morning meetings, held twice a week, an hour is given over to science lecture and an hour to laboratory work.

Also included are Saturday field trips. Times will be announced later.

Fee for each series is $10 for Museum members and $15 for non-members. (Membership information available on request.) The course fee includes admission to the Museum and the privilege of borrowing books from Lyman Library during the months of July and August.

Registration for Summer Explorers is open and is limited to 40 participants in each series. Call the Museum of Science for detailed information and to register.

PTA Meets Wednesday

Asst. Supt. of Schools Vaughn Clapp and School Committee woman Virginia H. Cole will speak at a special meeting of the Shawsheen PTA on May 17 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

They are to discuss progress with the new Bancroft School and future plans for elementary and junior high school students. A question and answer period will follow.

Classroom visitations will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Sixth grade mothers will provide the refreshments and they are to be served by Mrs. Charles Towne, Mrs. Charles Hughes, Mrs. Clifford Freije and Mrs. William Kolbe, room mothers.

Great Books Season Ending

The forthcoming May programs for both groups discussing Great Books of the Western world will wind up the 1966-67 season in Andover and neighboring communities. On May 23 at 7:30, group I under the co-leadership of Miss Helen Stearns and Robert Rockwell will consider Joseph Conrad's THE HEART OF DARKNESS wherein the author sets forth the effect of jungle life on a man from western civilization. A question which comes to mind is "Does the jungle corrupt some but not others?" And do the natives seem to worship the "corrupted" and not the non-corrupted? The reactions of various characters in the book to the underdeveloped way of life in which they are living has real import for our kind of civilization today.

As the Great Books Foundation points out "This is no shortcut to culture. You will get more out of this activity than you put into it (although you will get considerably more out of an hour of reading a great book than from an hour of ordinary reading.)"

This line of thinking will apply as well to the topic to be considered by Great Books group II. They have selected MACBETH by William Shakespeare for their discussion on May 25 at 8 p.m. The leaders for this meeting will be Mrs. E. W. McLean and Mrs. Donald Sagaser. Leaders for the group rotate in order, as Mrs. Sagaser put it, "to keep their hand in". Members are the trained Junior Great Books Leaders who get together once a month during the fall and winter with members of the public cordially invited to attend also. They discuss selected titles from among the great books of the Western world.

This will be the final meeting for this season. If you would like to attend to see what the discussions are like, please feel free to come either on Tuesday, May 23 or Thursday, May 25. You will be welcome to start next September with the new series which will open then.

Season Ending

The last story and game program of the Littlest Listeners is being held today when the Redbirds meet at Ballardvale branch with

Mrs. Martha MacCausland. Littlest Listeners meet every other week for stories from picture books and games appropriate to the pre-school age. They learn some of the best-loved stories of childhood, meet new friends, become acquainted with the best new children's books and learn how to love and handle books.

Memorial Hall Library sponsors four such programs during the school year for boys and girls of four and five. Two meet on alternate Thursdays at Ballardvale branch and two on alternate Tuesdays at the main library in the children's room. The next meeting of the group will take place in September. Meantime the children are welcome to come to the library any time during regular hours for books to take home. The children's room is open daily except Sundays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The branch in the Ballardvale Community House is open on Mondays and Thursdays from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 9 p.m.

Classes Visit

As part of their observation of National Library Week, 20 pre-school boys and girls from Pike School visited the Children's room and heard a program of stories narrated by Miss Elizabeth Russell. They talked about the proper way to handle books; treat a book gently and have nice clean hands!

May 1 and May 4, 80 Andover Junior High School students spent a class period in the adult department working on their language laboratory assignments. Under this program, now ending its third year, every ninth grader comes to the library to gather research materials for a team report which he will help prepare under the language laboratory program directed by Mrs. Henry DeCesare, head of the English department at the junior high school.

Topics selected by the students for their reports included the ever-fascinating witchcraft; Nobel prize winners; music, 1920-1940 and 1957-67; extrasensory perceptions; exploits of World War II; characteristics of planets and stars; the future look of housing; designers and dress of the last ten years; and summer sports.

Each topic requires use of the library catalog, often involving more than one subject heading; locating information in the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature and filling in a call slip for periodicals with all the necessary information to have the correct magazine pulled from its storage place by library staff.

Staff members who assisted during the class visits included Arthur J. Anderson, associate director; Mrs. Charles Smyth, reference; Mrs. Kenneth Vitt, assistant librarian; Mrs. Harry B. Shepherd, reference; Mrs. John Wilson, circulation; Mrs. John Wrigley, young adult librarian. Retrieval from closed stacks and checking out materials at the desk were in charge of Mrs. Wolfenbarger, Mrs. Mildred Krause, Mrs. Albert J. Wilde, Mrs. Donald Downes and Henry Wyatt.

The 38th Convention of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 16 and 17 at the Hotel Somerset in Boston to propose and vote on items which will comprise the state League program for the coming year and elect new officers and directors.

Mrs. George H. Sherrerd, newly elected president of the Andover League, will head the local delegation. Others attending the convention will be Mrs. Donald J. Mulvey, Mrs. Richard H. Moody, Mrs. David F. Gump, Mrs. Douglas Dunbar Jr., Mrs. Thomas J. Swift, Mrs. Joseph J. Podgorski, Mrs. Lee Von Duyke and Mrs. Hale Sturges II.

Mrs. Richard Moody plans to propose to the convention that a continued study of higher education in Massachusetts be considered as a topic on the 1967-68 program. If the convention votes to consider her proposal, the Andover delegation and delegates from other interested Leagues will hold a caucus Tuesday evening to plan their presentation and strategy before discussion and final voting by the convention on Wednesday.

A Beginning

The TOWNSMAN has done a lot of talking in the past two years about what a giant step Andover could take toward the revitalization of its business district and to the preservation of its village image if it would replant Main Street with trees.

So it is no more than appropriate that the first tree to be planted along side our main thoroughfare be the gift of the Andover TOWNSMAN and its publisher, Irving E. Rogers.

The tree was dedicated on May 6, Founder's Day, and it was suggested afterward that the Town add the annual planting of a tree to the collection of Founders' Day traditions it has developed in the three years since the observance was initiated.

This kind of municipal habit should certainly be encouraged, but for any who are interested, there is a way to speed the greening process. Gene Bernardin, president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce is collecting from Chamber members and any others who feel a surge of civic pride to match the $1000 voted by the Town this year for downtown beautification. He is within $300 of the goal, and actively pursuing the balance.

For any who are more interested in what they can do for Andover than in what Andover can do for them, here is an opportunity to leave something for posterity.

Bask A Bit

It is Goodwill Week and time to bask in the reflected glory due Goodwill Industries for the services it provides for the handicapped people of this country.

The kind of help that Merrimack Valley Goodwill Industries offers is the finest kind of assistance that can be given to handicapped people because it encourages them to depend upon themselves rather than upon the resources of the community. The skills they develop in learning to transform discarded clothing and household items into profitable products can equip them to work with competitive industries, and make possible the independence that comes with living in the mainstream.

But what Goodwill really provides is a mutually beneficial service. The community gains not only because the program of this organization turns dependents into taxpayers, the people benefit also from providing for the less fortunate the true American freedoms of richer lives, liberty and independence and the chance to pursue personal goals and ambitions.

It is a program that should be appreciated and supported.

Compact Comment

Ruth T. Hitchings has spent a good chunk out of the past 20 years of her life working for the Town of Andover as secretary in key administrative offices.

For most of this time, she has been in a strategic front-office position, dealing with the public as the executive secretary to the Board of Selectmen and more recently, to the town managers.

Over the years she has broken in a long list of board members and two managers, calling upon her memory and copious files as a ready backlog of municipal information.

Mrs. Hitchings is fiercely loyal and dedicated . . . completely deserving of the 1967 award as the Andover Town Employee of the Year.

Safety Officer William Tammany of the police department is off to Washington, D. C. this week with a delegation of a dozen school safety patrol officers who will represent this community at the annual School Safety Patrol Meet.

It can hardly be regarded as an outing for Tammany who each year assumes responsibility for raising funds to finance the Washington trip and then goes along with the youngsters to supervise their participation.

It is a venture for which he is to be complimented and congratulated. It is because of his interest that the program survives.

It is well to recall the words of John Locke who lived in the Seventeenth Century. "The end of the law is not to abolish or restrain, but to preserve and enlarge freedom." The preservation of individual freedom should remain the highest goal of human existence.

We are proving that man can live in outer space and at the bottom of the sea. Meanwhile, in the area between, it's getting tougher and tougher.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

The President of the United States continues to squander the treasure of this country in a war which never should have started. If our State Department had been true to our own traditions of freedom and realized that Vietnam had the right to cease being a French colony, we would now have a friendly buffer state on the border of China. Instead, we financed the French in their attempts to regain a colony that they had already surrendered, and we turned against the very Vietnamese who fought beside our OSS. Subsequently, we supported a succession of weak governments so unpopular that they could not maintain control over South Vietnam even with the large amount of material aid we gave their army. Two years ago, one month after taking his oath of office, our President committed our sons to fighting in Vietnam, with the promise of success if he could enlarge the war and commence bombing in the North. We have now increased our forces 25-fold in men and even more in material, and the President's promise is farther away than ever. He does not realize that Vietnam will struggle to the death in the defense of her territory. She knows too well the cost of submission to a foreign power.

In the name of patriotism, we are asked to support these policies that have failed, to increase the commitment of our sons and our economy, to support totally a war whose clearest objective is to cover up the mistakes of our leaders. We are asked to support additional escalations of this war, even up to China's borders and possibly beyond. When our actions force China to resist, we shall be asked to believe the story that China is the aggressor. At this time, the war will become a major war, and all opposition will collapse. In silence we shall see our country bleed and sicken, in a long war which need never have occurred, had our government acted with prudence and wisdom. Before it is too late, we must write to our senators and representatives, to show our opposition to these policies of continuing and enlarging the war.

of Education, will conduct the Exchange Club Pops Concert of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra at Rolling Green Motor Inn on May 21.

This is the concert that sponsors and those who hold season tickets may attend as a replacement for an earlier spring concert which was cancelled following resignation of the orchestra's conductor and music director.

Selectman Sidney P. White, co-chairman for Clean-up Week activities, reports this week that Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational - Technical High School officials have agreed to construct and donate metal-lined flower boxes to decorate the front of the Town Hall and have them ready in time for installation prior to Memorial Day. White said he is in the process of arranging for donations of flowers as well.

with architectural firms interviewed and been told that a public safety building can be constructed in the available space, allowing frontage for both departments on Main Street.

Pointing out that it would be more economical, Bowen said "It has become increasingly clear (over the months) that we could not build the police station we want for the $150,000 available. By combining the two, we would have $550,000 to work with."

The manager said he was not suggesting combining the functions of the two departments, though it might be practical to think in terms of a joint communications system or a common administrative area close by one another.

Another practical consideration, he added, is the possibility that the "day is not too far off when firefighters will be required to stand a tour of duty and not permitted to sleep." The manager said that should this day come, the vacated sleeping quarters in a public safety building could be used for a number of purposes by both departments.

Bowen explained afterward that when and if fire department employees go onto an eight-hour day, the town would no longer need to provide sleeping quarters.

The manager said the architectural firm he has in mind is Design Group Inc. of Boston. He reported later in the week, however, that he is going to interview an architect suggested by Selectman Sidney P. White before reporting a final decision.

Bowen told the Selectmen Monday that the Boston architects are, in association with another firm, designing the addition to the Boston Public Library. He reported that they have expressed a willingness to design a public safety building of traditional materials in keeping with the traditional character of Andover so long as no effort is made to impose upon them an interpretation of what is "traditional" in Andover.

a half from the playing fields behind the Central School. Lastly, and most important," he added, "It is located in an area where several ABC members live and where the great majority of the immediate neighbors will treat these boys with the courtesy due all human beings." Kile reports that his committee knows this for a fact because ABC members have personally contacted over 30 people in the immediate neighborhood and that the "reception, on the whole, has been most encouraging."

Within the next few weeks ABC expects to announce more details about its teacher-supervisor, students and fund raising program.

The search for a suitable ABC house has been underway since Town Meeting in March when voters approved 5-1 the idea of bringing disadvantaged boys from urban environments to attend school in Andover.

The committee's first attempt to buy a house, met with neighborhood hospitality however, and negotiations for the Summer Street location under consideration were dropped late in April.

Residents in the area expressed their opposition to have a "dormitory" on their street at a public meeting held by ABC to inform the public of its interest in the Summer Street house and to sound out its potential neighbors.

Norman Viehmann, chairman of the ABC housing committee, reported this week that following this open discussion three property owners from other parts of town came forward to offer houses for sale.

In two instances, the owners live in the houses offered. Neither of these people were planning immediate sale of their property, but both were willing to release the houses if they would meet ABC's needs, Viehmann said. The chairman said one owner was so interested in the ABC problem that he was willing to sell a house he and his family "love" if it would meet specifications.

The apartment house purchased is one of the three offered following the Summer Street incident.

Musician Makes U. S. Debut

Jon B. Higgins

John B. Higgins of Andover, a 1962 graduate of Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn., will sing a concert of South Indian classical music in the Wesleyan Memorial Chapel there this Friday.

The young musician is recently returned from India where he spent three years in study as a Fulbright scholar.

He will be accompanied for his concert by two visiting Indian musicians playing violin and mridamgam.

Higgins was a history major while an undergraduate at Wesleyan and graduated with distinction for his thesis on South Indian Rhythm. In 1964, after earning an MA in Wesleyan's ethnomusicology program, he went to India.

During his studies in India, Higgins gave numerous concerts and recitals, drawing such rave reviews as the following from the Indian Express of New Delhi: "The American Fulbright student Jon Higgins scotched all novelty in his Carnatic music recital this evening and staked his claim to be judged as a trained and practised performer."

The Times of New Delhi said: "No musician in recent times has caused as much sensation in the Capital as did a tall, young American, Jon B. Higgins."

Higgins, who is 26, is the first product of Wesleyan's ethnomusicology (world music) graduate program to gain recognized proficiency.

His "homecoming" concert in the Wesleyan chapel will be his American debut. It will be followed this summer by the release of two LP albums made by Mr. Higgins while he was in India. Next September, Higgins plans to continue his studies in Wesleyan's new Ph.D. program in world music.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Higgins of Andover, Higgins was the subject of a TOWNSMAN feature in October of 1966.

Viet Boy Is Adopted

Members of the mission education committee of Free Christian Church have financially adopted Vo Tan, a nine-year-old Vietnamese boy, one of three motherless children.

The "adoption" is financial, not legal, and costs $15 a month for a minimum of one year. Foster Parents often continue supporting the same child until he graduates from school or reaches 16, but when this is not possible, the child is assigned to another Foster

Parent.

Vo Tan's parents fled terrorists when their village was occupied by the Viet Cong running to DaNang. In 1964 the mother died of a sudden internal hemorrhage. Since then the father has been at work as a coolie for 68 cents a day. The family lives in a shack erected with a corrugated iron roof, a cement floor and cardboard walls provided by the government.

The Foster Parent organization is located at 352 Park Ave. S., New York, New York.

At the completion of the third term of the Weekday School of Biblical Studies of Andover, Walter E. Aufrecht, director of Christian Education for the Andover Council of Churches, announces the following honor roll.

Seventh Grade: Stephen A. Jenkins, William R. Milne, Patricia G. Osborne, Pamela J. St. Clair.
Eighth Grade: Donald Taylor Coleman, Bradley D. Kent, Deborah G. Knowles, Melissa Sherman, Karyn Pillsbury.

Ninth Grade: Janet Elizabeth Cromie, Elizabeth-Allen Hills, Kristin J. Nelson.

The plain content of the Bible is taught in an academic atmosphere on a released-time basis. The Bible is the only text and students are expected to familiarize themselves with its content so that they will be able to use it with skill and understanding. For further information, contact Mr. Aufrecht at 25 Central St., Andover.

Arts Wed
For Service

A new form of worship service involving audience participation, choral music, and the use of artistic media will be held Sunday at the 10:30 service of the Unitarian-Universalist Church, 244 Lowell St.

This unique program, coordinated by Margaret Schwerin, director of the Bedford Community Chorus, will present psalms in a contemporary setting. The combined choirs of the First Parish Unitarian in Bedford and the Northshore Unitarian Church will sing several psalms. Set to music by such contemporary composers as Arthur Honegger, Alan Hovhaness, Randall Thompson and Daniel Pinkham, a graduate of Phillips Academy and presently the music director of King's Chapel, Dorothy Koenig will be soloist and Diane Oberholtzer, organist. The congregation will then read the psalms aloud.

A visual interpretation by artist Joan Duffy will follow and her drawings will be projected by a viewgraph for the audience. The music accompanying her sketches will be from the "Partita for Woodwind" quintet by Irving Fine (1948), played by Glen Powell - flute, David Faucher - oboe, Betty Comey - clarinet, Ann Parke - French horn, and Frank Belvin - bassoon.

This new form of worship service, originated by Mrs. Schwerin, explores the possibility of art, music and poetry "emerging" in time as one experience as in time as a static art form. This program is being presented in conjunction with the U-U Art Show which will open Saturday, May 13 and continue through the 17.

Raised at the Fish and Wildlife Service's Craig Brook Hatchery in East Orland, Maine, the salmon were trucked to the reservoir by fisheries men of the division. All fish were fin-clipped at the hatchery to distinguish them from others that were stocked there during the past two years.

ZBA Allows Two Requests

Two Zoning Board of Appeals decisions were released this week, both of them positive.

Approval was given for the petition of Arthur and Dorothy Peasman for a variance to allow the addition of a porch to a residence at 46 Cutler Rd., leaving less than the required set-back from the street. The porch would be in a line with the rest of the house, constructed when a 30 foot rather than a 40 foot set-back was required.

Also approved was the petition of Thomas W. Tavenner of 15 Central St. for a variance and a special permit enabling him to convert the second and third floors of a house at 2 Pumphard Ave. to accommodate three apartments. The building is now a combination office and rooming house for eight persons.

The board ruled that the use of which is in a general business district, the building, for apartments would be in harmony with the general purpose of the zoning by-law and not unreasonably detrimental to the neighborhood.

Relief Funds Are Collected

Although it is nearly a month since windstorms, tornadoes and rain cut a swath of destruction across the Mid-west, Red Cross staff workers and volunteers still are on the job picking up the loose ends for 9,000 persons whose homes were in the path.

With confirmed deaths totaling 54 and with nearly 1,000 others injured, Red Cross disaster teams faced the tasks of feeding those left homeless and locating relatives of the victims besides distributing clean up kits and tools for the 1,200 homes that suffered major damage. Another 550 homes were destroyed.

By the first of May, more than $16,000 in cash had been contributed to victims for emergency relief. Donors included the United Fund agencies in Rockford and Belvidere, Ill., as well as foundations and other organizations in the two communities.

The Mid-America Chapter of the Red Cross is handling welfare inquiries for Oak Lawn, Ill., and other nearby communities, but contributions for the direct aid of the disaster victims may be made through the Andover chapter of the Red Cross, at 4 Pumphard Ave. Such contributions should be marked for Midwest relief since they will be used for the emergency that still exists.

Ruth T. Hitchings Receives Town Award

Founders' Day ceremonies Saturday were climaxed with the announcement that the Board of Selectmen has named its secretary, Ruth T. Hitchings as the Andover Town Employee of the Year and the recipient of the William W. Rhoads memorial award.

Mrs. Hitchings is executive secretary to Town Manager Richard J. Bowen, but serves the board as well. She transcribes the minutes of all its meetings and handles its correspondence.

A resident of Andover for 30 years, Mrs. Hitchings started her service with the town with the Selective Service Board where she worked for a year. She spent another six months with the town rationing board before moving into a secretary's job with Frank Markey, then veterans' service agent.

In 1956 Mrs. Hitchings became secretary to the Board of Selectmen and she continued in this post until the town manager form of government was adopted.

This change, she admits, has made her office a far busier place than it used to be. The fact that the town is bigger, and the fact that a great many administrative functions are concentrated in the manager's office, have increased the volume of work, she explains.

And what about her job? "It is challenging, interesting . . . and it definitely tends to keep a secretary on her toes," Mrs. Hitchings reports with a glint in her eye.

A great deal of her work is involved with just following through on requests from citizens, she adds. "Perhaps one of the most difficult jobs I have," she said this week, "is to explain things to people and, sometimes, to make them see the why."

A crowd of residents and town employees crowded the reading room of Memorial Hall Library for the early evening ceremonies Saturday honoring not only Mrs. Hitchings, but other long-term employees and volunteers who have served town committees and boards.

Receiving 20 Year Service pins were: Henry Burline, public works; Miss Agnes Deyermund, accounting dept.; Miss Isabelle Dobbie, West School principal; Miss Mary T. Donahue, J. H. teacher; Mrs. Ruth T. Hitchings, secretary to the town manager; Miss Martha S. Howe, Shawsheen teacher; Roy A. Russell, police officer; and Miss Helen Thompson, Central teacher.

15 Year pins: Mrs. Edna Lounsbury, Miss Cynthia Noone, Mrs. Dorothy B. Runyan and Mrs. Elinor Stanley, all teachers at Central School.

10 Year Pins: Mrs. Bertha

Asoian, secretary to the superintendent of schools; Robert W. Bachmann, J. H. teacher; Mrs. Mary Buss, school cafeteria; Mrs. Louise Casserly, Sanborn teacher; Walter Disbrow, school custodian; Mrs. Jessie Finnerty, school cafeteria; William J. Floyd, public works; William E. Hart, J. H. prinincipal; Joseph Hastings, school custodian; Mrs. Helen M. Keith, public works department.

Edward E. King, fire department; Mrs. Julia Lee, West teacher; Clyde Mears, school custodian; Calvin E. Metcalf, office manager, public works department; Rudolph A. Perron, public works; Mrs. Dorothy Smith, school cafeteria; Mrs. Dorothy Volker, police department; Robert T. Volker, public works; Mrs. Dorothy T. Partridge, J. H. principal; Walter Winward, fire department.

A certificate of service was presented posthumously to Fay H. Elliot for his work with the Board of Health from 1963-67 and the award was received by his widow, Mrs. Fay Elliot.

Other service certificates were presented as follows:

Industrial Development Commission: Charles DeBell; John R. McLeod; Victor J. Mill Jr.

Planning Board: John N. Cole.

Finance Committee: Robert M. Henderson; Thomas S. Marjerison; Edward A. Romeo.

Trustee of Spring Grove Cemetery: Albert E. Curtis.

School Committee: Robert E. Sherman.

Conservation Commission: Heinrich Rohrbach.

Hostesses for the early evening event were Mrs. William J. Corey, Mrs. David L. Nicoll, Mrs. F. Tyler Carlton, Miss Anna M. Greeley, Mrs. Hitchings and Mrs. Chester A. MacMillan.
